From the (Richmond) RECORDER.

MRS. WALKER.

In the Recorder of the 13th current, reference was made to a circumſtance, which had occurred a conſiderable time ſince, between a certain great perſonage, and a lady in Albemarle county. We meant to publiſh it for various reaſons. One of them is that the public have a right to be acquainted with the real characters of perſons, who are the poſſeſſors or the candidates for office. A ſecond reaſon is, that an enemy cannot refuſe the right of being attacked with his own weapons. Every body muſt well remember the noiſe which was made by the democrats in ſummer, 1797, concerning a perſonage of the oppoſite party, who had fallen into an illicit commerce with another man's wife. Sauce for the gooſe, ſauce for the gander, ſays the proverb.

A third reaſon for publication is that we have been loudly accuſed of a deſign to attack the character of a moſt reſpectable lady, whereas ſuch a thing never once came into our heads. The Bee had publiſhed the ſtory, with a contradiction or denial of it. Meriwether Jones, with his wonted judgment and delicacy, tranſplanted the article into his Examiner, ſo that the Recorder cannot be charged as the firſt publiſher of the tale. Inſtead of arraigning, we are going to vindicate the lady's character, if indeed a character ſo uncommonly reſpectable and amiable could be ſuppoſed to ſtand in want of a vindication. We beg to be underſtood that, if Jones had been ſilent, we ſhould, moſt probably, have been ſo likewiſe. But a certain great perſonage has got ſuch an abſurd ſet of defenders about him as would be ſufficient for deſtroying the character of any man. We never before witneſſed ſo complete an example of literary ſuicide. Without any common place declamation upon the ſanctity of the ſeventh commandment, or the guilt of ſeduction, or ſuch trite matters, we ſhall tell a plain ſtory that is univerſally believed and that ought long ſince to have been publiſhed.

Mr. John Walker, of Albemarle is a gentleman of independent fortune, and a moſt irreproachable character. His lady is univerſally repreſented as worthy to be the pattern of her ſex. A great perſonage, who reſides at ſome diſtance from Mr. Walker's, and who had been at ſchool with him, had, after Mr. Walker's marriage, been in ſome meaſure, domeſticated by him. Upon all occaſions, he was received, in Mr. Walker's family, with that cordial hoſpitality, for which a Virginian country gentleman is ſo proverbially diſtinguiſhed. The return to this friendſhip was an attempt, as fooliſh, as it was infamous, to injure the virtue of Mrs. Walker, and the happineſs of her huſband. He was repulſed with the contempt he deſerved; and his intended exertions of his ENERGIES for the multiplication of our ſpecies, was, in this inſtance, diſappointed. The lady, at the requeſt of the great perſonage, conſented to the concealment of the propoſal. She did this, on promiſe of better behaviour, in time to come. Matters remained in that ſituation, for a certain period; how long we do not exactly know.

We did not ſuſpect that the great perſonage had poſſeſſed that ARDOR OF CONSTITUTION, which was neceſſary for the renewal of ſo deteſtable, and ſo deſperate a ſcheme. We have been, within the laſt fortnight, almoſt overwhelmed with reputable affirmations of what was, before, ſufficiently credible. A ſecond attempt was made, by ſlipping a billet into the lady's hand.

In the commiſſion of the very ſame crime, a multitude of ſubordinate circumſtances may leſſen or augment the proportion of guilt, there is not, perhaps, any vice, where the degrees of guilt admit of a greater diverſity than in that which is the ſubject of the preſent article. Upon a topic ſo delicate we decline the hazardous office of endeavoring to expatiate. We only ſay that, in combining the circumſtances of this Albemarle conſpiracy, there is not a ſingle point of alleviation.

Whether the great perſonage was, at that time, married, we do not pretend to ſay. We have, in relating this affair, adhered to a generality of expreſſion, to prevent the little contradictions of our precious public printer. On receipt of the billet, Mrs. Walker took her huſband aſide. She put the paper into his hand, and told him of the former attempt, that ſhe had conditionally promiſed to ſuppreſs. The great perſonage received immediate permiſſion to QUIT THE HOUSE; and it is almoſt needleſs to add that this permiſſion was accepted.

Mr. Walker never mentions the name of the great perſonage but in epithets of the moſt ardent deteſtation. We have been aſſured that he received from the great perſonage either one or more letters of DEPRECATION; and that, if any great clamour ſhall be raiſed by the democrats, theſe letters, or that letter, will burſt upon the indignation of mankind. Now, dont give us any more challenges to PUBLISH LETTERS. You have had quite enough of THAT For, in ſpite of the childiſh prattle of the Examiner, the Recorder of October 6th made an impreſſion which can never be recalled. Dont give us any more defiances to do all that WE CAN DO.

From the COMMERCIAL ADVERTISER.

REFLECTIONS IN AUTUMN.

Gentle Fancy, that ſkimmeſt lightly over the ſurface of nature—like the ſweet humming-bird, thou roveſt perpetually from one object to another, though occaſionally pauſing to extract honey from the flowers thou meets in thine excurſions—how great a ſoother of our cares, how great a ſource of intellectual enjoyment art thou. Tho oftentimes, by thine influence, the mind is enwrapped in the gloom of melancholy, and unreal evils diſturb our happineſs, yet anon, light breaks in upon the ſoul, and a thouſand images of delight enliven and enchant us. Led by thee, (when mantled by ſadneſs) how often do we ſtray to viſionary worlds—to formleſs ſcenes, which thy magic power alone could create—to deep, dark ſhades—to valleys that realy drink the "Sun's all chearing beams."—to the habitations of man, that have long exhibited, in a ſtriking manner, the decays of time!—Here thou delighteſt to rove—here to reſt, and to invite the influence of penſive meditation.

At the dawn and prime of Spring, imagination is enflamed—the heart beats high with the pulſe of joy—rapture diſtends the boſom—and delight ſparkles in the eye.

In the heat of Summer, the frame is relaxed—fancy is enfeebled—and the finer ſpirit that gives life to cheerfulneſs evaporate, leaving us debilitated, and incapable of one tender or elevated conception.

But Autumn—when the grave matron Autumn approaches, new ſpirits circulate through our veins, and new tranſports warm our boſoms. At this very moment ſhe is preſent—The heat and languor of Summer is over—thoſe languid days, and moſt inſufferable nights are paſt and Fall has once more returned, to feaſt the penſive mind with the rich repaſt of "Heavenly Melancholy."

How happy is the individual whoſe ſoul, attuned to the order and ſimple beauties of nature, diſpoſed for contemplation, and ſo much at peace with heaven as never to find meditation irkſome, lives remote from the buſtle and parade of pride and oppulence, and enjoys an unreſerved intercourſe with Piety, Science and Friendſhip. If there be a rational way of ſpending time, a reflecting mind would ſurely pronounce this to be the way. Without being forever whirled in the vortex of buſineſs or diſſipation—poſſeſſing independence, in point of property, yet with care enough to prevent the mind from ſtagnation, is aſſuredly what reaſon would preſcribe, but what, alas, human prudence or diligence rarely can effect.

This ſtate has been the wiſh of the wiſe thro every age. The Philoſopher has planed & ſighed to enjoy it—the Poet has grown enthuſiaſtic in the contemplation of it—and even the active, indefatigable man of buſineſs has propoſed it as the reward of his toils, the termination of his cares.

It is evening—how ſtill and ſilent is all nature. The voice of harmony has ceaſed—the ſweet ſongſters of the wood, that but a few days ago enlivened the meadows and the fields, are fled—frighted by the appearance of Autumn, they have eloped to a kinder ſky——the winds are huſhed, and ſadneſs reſts on the face of things.

This is the luxury of ſolitude—this the extacy of ſilence and reflexion. Who would ſurrender delight like this for the mock gaiety of a ball—for the admiration of the croud, or the careſſes of the great and fortunate.

The ſun is ſetting—He departs, ſurrounded by a bright and ſplendid blaze—All the ſky is adorned by his many coloured rays—the clouds ſhare his effulgence, and pour upon the admiring eye all the beauties that diverſified color can produce. Unſpeakable are the charms of ſuch a ſcene, and inexpreſſible the feelings it raiſes in the heart.

Spirit of Mercy—to thee are we indebted for every enjoyment we experience below. Thy beneficient hand ſcatters the path of life with roſes, and "crowns our days with kindneſs"—and tho we perpetually ſlight thy favors, and return ingratitude for goodneſs, yet is not the ſtream of Mercy in the leaſt diminiſhed. Thou ſupplies us with every good our reaſon could require; yet, inſtigated by paſſion or lured by pleaſure, our depraved hearts often demand gratifications inconſiſtent with real happineſs, and graſping at the ſhadow, too frequently loſe the ſubſtance.

To thee only ought we ever aſcribe the pleaſures we receive from the ſcene of nature—from friendſhip or affection. Thou infuſeſt into the hearts of others favorable ſentiments, and diſpoſes them to exerciſe kindneſs or beneficence towards us. While men of pride and arrogance conceive their own merits to be the foundation of all the reſpect or tenderneſs they experience from their fellow mortals, the humble and devout attribute ſuch favors wholly to thee, "from whom cometh down every good gift." Eternal Power—let ſuch a diſpoſition never be mine—but if ever I ſhould aſcribe to my own merits or exertions either peace or proſperity, teach me humility—teach me that the higheſt enjoyment that earth can beſtow, it is thine "either to give or take away."

LIVERPOOL, September 14.

The Privy Council have iſſued orders prohibiting the importation of the produce of the Britiſh colonies or territories, either for exportation or home conſumption, otherwiſe than directly from thence, with ſome exception with reſpect to cotton wool. Other produce, except the growth of the United States, can only be imported from thence for exportation.

September 16.

On Tueſday laſt this town was viſited by a calamity as ſingularly awful in its appearance as it was diſaſtrous and deſtructive in its effects.—About ten o'clock in the evening, a ſmoke was obſerved to iſſue from a room in the warehouſe belonging to Thos. France, eſq. at Goree, whoſe ſpacious and lofty front has long attracted the admiration of ſtrangers, and which, if equalled, was not ſurpaſſed in magnitude by any ſimilar ſtructure in the kingdom. The alarm of fire was rapidly ſpread through the town, and an immenſe crowd were ſoon aſſembled, where the danger had been firſt diſcovered. For a time appearances ſeemed to juſtify a hope that the tremendous miſchief which had been announced and apprehended might be ſubdued without much effort—but no ſooner were the doors and windows of the building forced, than the flames, which had been ſmothered, burſt out with horrid fury, extending their ravages in every direction, with equal rapidity and violence. In a few hours this immenſe pile, together with that large and commodious range of warehouſes, which was erected in front, at the diſtance of 16 yards, as well as that which extends from it, in a line, to Water ſtreet, was a heap of ruins, and a great proportion of all that rich and various produce, with which every apartment of theſe buildings had been ſtored and crowded, was conſumed. The mildneſs of the evening, and the tide, accompanied with light and variable breezes, being fortunately at flood, gave an opportunity to remove the ſhipping beyond the reach of the flames, and ſo prevented the devaſtation which was ſpreading on the ſhore from being aggravated by a ſcene of confuſion and ruin, which the imagination even ſhudders to contemplate.

The ſolemn grandeur! the majeſtic horror of the ſcene no tongue, no pencil can deſcribe. Through a great part of the immenſe crowd that was aſſembled, ſcarcely a whiſper diſturbed the awful ſtillneſs that prevailed; and without an effort to reſiſt the devouring evil, it was left for a while to act its dreadful part alone, every eye being fixed on the tremendous ſpectacle, and every countenance marked with emotions of profound aſtoniſhment or of ſilent deſpair. Of the immenſe property which has periſhed, no adequate eſtimate can yet be given—but under the diſaſters of a night, which will long be remembered and deplored, one conſolation remains, that we have not to lament the loſs of a ſingle life.

Amidſt the deep concern every individual muſt have felt at the calamitous event of Tueſday night, it muſt have afforded peculiar ſatisfaction to the proprietors of the Bootle Water Works, to have obſerved the beneficial effects produced from the abundance of water which their ſprings yeilded in arreſting the dreadful conflagration—how greatly to be deſired is the completion of thoſe immenſe reſervoirs now conſtructing in the company's yard (Vauxhall Road) which from their height would have commanded thoſe towering ware houſes that were deſtroyed, without even the aſſiſtance of an engine. We are happy to learn, that in a very few weeks thoſe receptacles (which are formed to contain upwards of two thouſand tons of water) will be finiſhed. The inhabitants of this vaſt and opulent town will no doubt patronize the undertaking.

Cleared, ship Protector, De Peyster, Calcutta; brig Mary Ann, Forris, Antigua; Admiral Duncan, Barbadoes.

Arrived since our last.

Schooner Catharine, Hildrop, in 29 days from St. Croix. Left there, brig Venus, Crocker, just arrived from New York; schooner Lark, of and for New-Haven, to sail in 6 days, brig William and Thomas, Wheelright, of and for Boston, to sail in 7 days; and a number of others, names not recollected.

English ship Chesterfield, (formerly a packet) from London. She sailed from London on the 8th September, and left the Downs on the 16th. She was bound to Quebec, but after beating 19 days in the Gulph of St. Lawrence, bore away for this port. The ship John Morgan, Chew, dropped down from London on the 6th, and sailed on the 8th for New York. The Juliana, Brown, of New York, was loading on the 6th of September; also, the Calliope, of Philadelphia. Spoke Sept. 24, lat. 48, long. 14, brig Harriot, 6 days from Havre for Baltimore, 28th, lat. 48, long. 32, a brig 33, days from Virginia for London.

October 29.

It is with regret, we have to mention the loss of the English schoner Experiment, Captain Hayward, from Antigua. On Tuesday night last, she was driven ashore at the Hook, and went to pieces. The captain unfortunately perished, through his great anxiety to preserve the vessel after she struck, the rest of the crew got safe on shore. The schooner had 40 hhds sugar, and some fruit which was entirely lost. It is said it belonged to captain Packwood, of this city and was addressed to Messrs Saltus, Son and co.

ARRIVALS AT THIS PORT.

Arrived yesterday, from a three years voyage, the ship HOPE, Capt. RAY, in 223 days from Canton, and 121 days from the Isle of France, where she put in to stop a leak, with a valuable cargo of Teas, Nankeens, Silks, China Ware and Rhubarb, a part of which is on freight, to the house of Messrs. Gouverneur & Kemble, of this city: the other part to the owners (Messrs. Dagget, Painter, Hillhouse, and Attwater) at New Haven.

It will not, we presume, be uninteresting to our nautical readers, to give a sketch of Capt. Ray's voyage, as he has traversed a part of the globe hitherto unknown to navigators. The Hope sailed in '99, in company with the Congress frigate, and weathered the gale in which that vessel was so much shattered. The first place at which the Hope arrived after her departure from America, was Faulkland's Islands, where she remained six months, and was successful in getting skins. From this place she proceeded to the Island of South Georgia, where she made a stop of three months, and then proceeded on her voyage, and attempted to get round Cape Horn, which attempt was abandoned, after beating 60 days. She then put into Port Desire, on the coast of Patagonia. From this place she went to the River La Plata, where she remained three months, and dried the skins which they had previously obtained. She proceeded round to New Holland, and touched at Port Jackson, and continued her route from that place to Canton, where her cargo was disposed of to good advantage. On the 22d of December, 1801, in the latitude of 25, 2 deg. South, and long. 166, 21, W. Captain Ray, discovered an ISLAND, about 7 leagues in length, which appeared to be well covered with wood, but was not near enough to observe whether it was inhabited; and on the 26th of the same month, in lat. 5, deg. and 45 minutes N. and long. 163, 40, W. saw another ISLAND, about 4 leagues in length. Neither of these Islands appear on any map, or chart; and had capt. Ray been in possession of good boats he would have gone on shore to make further discoveries.

Capt. Ray left at the Isle of France, the Good Friends, Cochran, of Philadelphia; Fanny, of do. Patapsco, Reeves, of Baltimore; Martha Washington, Calder, of Gloucester; Ulysses, Muckford, of Salem; Commerce, West, of Gloucester; Perseverance, Delano, of Boston; brig Juno, of do. and the John of Salem.

Capt. Ray on his homeward passage, the 22d of Aug. stopt at St. Helena, to take in water, where he was treated with the greatest politeness and attention by the Governor, who gave him permission to get any thing he wanted. On the 6th of Sept. Capt. Ray stopt at the Island of Ferdinand, to take in some wood, where he received similar treatment from the Governor of the place.

Capt. Ray spoke, July 18, off the Cape of Good Hope, a ship from Hamburg for the Isle of France. Aug. 26, in lat. 13, 12, long. 13, 47, parted from the ships Fame, Barnard, & Lydia, Starbuck, both belonging to Nantucket, & both from a very successful whaling voyage, bound home. September 1, in lat. 7 44, long. 23, 55, brig Spirit of Santa, 58 days from Malaga for Montivido. October 9, in lat. 34, 6, long. 62, 19, a ship from Norfolk for Bristol. 10th, in lat. 37, 56, long. 72, 30, an English ship from Charleston for Glasgow. 18th a sloop from Cuba, for Rhode-Island; and on the 22d, a ship from Europe for Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.

Arrived ship India, Hathaway, Liverpool; Friendship, Glora, Hull; Good Friends, Cochrane, Isle of France; brig Morning Star, Stout, Salem; Mentor, Topaz, St. Thomas; Swift, Briggs, do. schooner Sally, Campbell, St. Andrews; Cynthia, Howland, New-Bedford; Rhoda, Cova, West-Point; Favorite, Cotterill, New-York; sloop Aurora, Clark, do.

Cleared, ship Phœbe Ann, Gardner, Antwerp; brig Augustus, Toby, New-Orleans; sloop Sea Flower, Bird, New-York; Patty, Newton, Norfolk.

The India left Liverpool on the 18th Sept. in company with the brig Ohio, capt. Lark, for Philadelphia, and the ship Commerce, for New-York. The ship Boyne, Stafford, for Charleston, S. C. sailed a few days before her.

Ship Patterson, Aborn, for New-York; American, Sherry, do. Diana, Nichols, do. Swanwick, Hamilton, Norfolk; Thomas Wilson, Jones, New-Orleans; Mars, Sheffield, in a few days, for New York; Telegraphe, Gardner, do. Mount Vernon, Boyngton, Boston; Rebecca, Follansbie, Baltimore; Mercury, Stoddart, Boston; Mac, Burdie, Charleston, S. C. Juno, Miller, do. Daphne, Malcolm, Savannah; brig Two Pollies; M'Lauthlin, Boston, and several others, names unknown.

On the 14th, in lat. 38, 3, N. long. 60, W. fell in with the hull of a brig that had been foundered; she lay with her deck even with the water's edge; could not see her name, her masts were gone just above deck, bolts also gone, hatches off fore and aft, and nothing appeared except the larboard anchor, bowsprit, belfry, main topsail sheet bitts, and gallows, which was painted black and yellow; the paint work inside was red and yellow, outside black and yellow, with bright sides; supposed to have foundered some time.

Extract of a letter from a house in Liverpool, dated 16th Sept.

"On the night of the 14th inst. we were spectators of a fire, which in calamitous consequences has out of London perhaps seldom been surpassed in this country. The great warehouse of Mr. France, by much the largest in Liverpool, was about 10 o'clock discovered to be on fire; between this immense pile and George's Dock stood a large row of warehouses, the street between which, and the former was so confined, that the smoke damping down upon the firemen, it became impossible for them to work the engines. Between 12 and 1 o'clock the flames burst out, and by a little after 3 the whole was demolished! The row of warehouses next the dock were in the mean time in flames, the effects of which, from the quantity of corn, cotton, sugar, rum, tallow, &c. which they contained, was dreadful in the extreme, The wind fortunately was from the west, which drove the fire from the dock, the shipping in which must otherwise have been inevitably consumed.—The damage is estimated to be from 500,000l. to 700,000l. and too probably it will be nearer the latter than the former. The manner in which it was occasioned has not been ascertained; happily no lives were lost. The goods saved were inconsiderable, but nothing could be more orderly or creditable than the conduct of the populace."

In Gore's Liverpool Advertiser, of the 16th of Sept. we find the following vessels advertised for the ports of the United States:

For Boston, ship Mercury, Stoddart, uncertain; brigantine Two Pollies, M'Lauchlin, in a few days; ship Mount Vernon, Boyington, 20th Sept. For Portland, Two Sisters, Knight, 25th Sept. For New-York, Diana, Nichols, in a few days; Patterson, Aborn, do. British ship Pitt, ———, do. American, Sherry, 28th Sept. Mars, Sheffield, in a few days; Telegraphe, Gardner, 30th Sept. For Baltimore, Rebecca, Follansbie, in a few days. For Norfolk, Swanwick, Hamilton, 20th Sept. For Savannah, Daphne, Malcolm, positively 1st Oct. For Charleston, brig Clyde, M'Call, 1st Oct. ship Juno, Miller, do. Mac. Burdick, do.

Also for N. Orleans, the ship Thomas, Wilson, Jones, in 10 days.

Extract of a letter from a member of the legislature of New Jersey to the Editors of the Gazette of the United States.

TRENTON, October 28, 1802.

The legislature met in joint meeting this afternoon, every member being present. The votes were

For Governon,

Richard Stockton,	26
Joseph Bloomfield,	26

For Senator,

Aaron Ogden,	26
John Condit,	26

No choice being made, it was unanimously agreed, that the joint meeting should rise. No day is at present thought of for another meeting; it must depend on circumstances.

We understand that a compromise has been offered by the republicans in the Legislature of New Jersey, but not acceded to by the democrats. It was proposed to elect Mr. Bloomfield to the Senate of the United States, and make Mr. Stockton Governor, Gaz. U. S.

Extract of a letter from St. Pierre's, Martinique, to a respectable gentleman in New York.—"The French Garrison (in number about 1200) have arrived; and about two hours before out flag was struck they placed a guard on our arsenal and wharf, and seized every thing. The laws of 1789, and the people in various situations and offices still continue: Every description of people, however, seem alarmed at the present calm, and expect a violent storm. They have already began with the Americans; at present, there is a kind of embargo, until they can fix the duties they have to pay; they seem very much exasperated against the Americans in general."

Those ladies, whose husbands bestow correction too freely, will be glad to hear a cure. At Barking, in Essex, whenever a fisherman beats his wife his neighbours empty a sack of chaff at the door.—The husband is next day so roasted, and asked by every one, "So you were threshing last night, I see, by the chaff at your door," that he seldom recurs to the same means of admonition.—*Lon. PROPOSALS

For PUBLISHING an AMERICAN EDITION OF

BLACKSTONE's COMMENTARIES

With NOTES of Reference to the CONSTITUTION and LAWS of the

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

OF THE

UNITED STATES,

AND OF THE

COMMONWEALTH of VIRGINIA:

With an appendix to each volume, containing tracts upon such subjects as appeared necessary to form a systematic view of the laws of Virginia as a member of the federal union.

BY ST. GEORGE TUCKER,

Professor of law in the College of William and Mary, and one of the Judges of the General Court, in Virginia.

THE PROPOSED EDITION WILL CONTAIN

I. An Introduction, or Preface.

II. NOTES on such parts of the Commentaries as treat on subjects which relate to correlative powers, delegated by the constitution and laws of the federal government, or of the state of Virginia; shewing in what instances the principles of the British constitution, the maxims of that government, the general customs, or common law of England, acts of the British parliament, and particular customs, or prescriptions, have been adopted or confirmed; altered or amended; or wholly changed and repealed, by local circumstances, political considerations, or the express provisions contained in our constitution and statute law.

III. To each volume of the Commentaries, there will be an appendix; into which will be introduced notes of a more considerable length, which cannot conveniently be inserted in the body of the work, and short tracts upon some subjects arising out of our own constitution and laws.

IV. THE appendix to the first volume will contain, 1. A discourse on government; 2. An inquiry into the obligation and authority of the common law and statutes of England, in the United States respectively; and whether the same be the law of the federal government of the United States or not. 3. A view of the written law of the commonwealth of Virginia as partaking of the constitution and laws of the federal government, and treaties made thereby; as well as of its own particular constitution, and acts of its legislature; together with such acts of the parliament of Great Britain, as may be still supposed to have any force or obligation therein. 4. A view of the constitution of the United States; its relation and connection with the state constitutions; a brief examination of their respective powers; a short parallel between it and that of Great Britain; an examination of some of its defects; and a view of the amendments thereto proposed by the several state conventions; and of such as may still be proper to be taken into further consideration. 5. A short view of the constitution of Virginia; an examination of some of Mr. Jefferson's positions respecting it; some hints with regard to an amendment of it, &c. 6. Observations on the right of conscience and the freedom of the press, in the United States of America. 7. A view of the origin, progress, and present state of slavery in Virginia, with a plan for its gradual abolition. 8. View of the laws respecting glebes and churches in Virginia.

V. THE appendix to the second volume will contain a short abstract of the land laws in Virginia, with a reference to such as are not to be found in any general code. 2. A discourse on the law of descents in Virginia. 3. An engraved copperplate table of descents according thereto. 4. A table shewing the manner in which estates in parcenary shall be divided pursuant thereto. 5. A view of the laws respecting escheats and forfeitures, passed during the revolutionary war, and of the rights of foreigners to hold lands in Virginia. 6. A view of the laws respecting slaves as property. 7. A discourse on the subject of the laws restraining usury.

VI. THE appendix to the third volume will contain a short view of the courts of the United States, and of the commonwealth of Virginia, with an abstract of the laws by which the practice therein is regulated; strictures on the trial by jury in Virginia under the existing laws, and plan for their amendment.

VII. THE appendix to the fourth volume will contain an abstract of the criminal jurisdiction of the federal government, and of the commonwealth of Virginia: and a short discourse on treason.

VIII. THE tracts mentioned in the fourth section—together with the Editor's preface and the Commentator's introduction, being all attached to the first volume of Blackstone; will in this edition, be divided into two parts—the preface and introductions; and the five tracts first mentioned in the fourth section, will be attached to the first part, and the other three tracts mentioned in the same section, will make the appendix to the second part.

☞ THE notes dispersed thro'out the work will amount to 14 or fifteen hundred. Those which refer to the constitution and laws of the United States are very numerous.

CONDITIONS.

I. That the work be printed with a new type on superfine paper, and in five very large octavo volumes; and be bound in neat law binding.

II. That it shall go to press as soon as a sufficient number of subscribers shall be obtained to make it prudent—and from the time of going to press be published in one year.

III. That the price of the whole, complete and bound, shall be twenty dollars, payable on delivery.

ADDRESS BY THE PUBLISHERS.

IT is presumed, a little consideration will make it obvious, that a work so extensive, and which will employ a large capital, cannot be put to press until a sufficient number of subscribers are obtained to make it prudent:—The Publishers do not recollect that any book of the same amount, has been printed in the United States, without either a part of the purchase money being required in advance, or returns made as it proceeded, by delivering the volumes as they were printed—In the present case, the whole work will be finished and completely bound before any payment is made.

It is earnestly requested, that the gentlemen who intend subscribing, will forward their names, as soon as possible, either by letter (post paid) to the Publishers in Philadelphia, or through the medium of book sellers in the neighboring towns. The post masters will also be furnished with a subscription paper, and it is presumed they will forward any names that may offer; as a remuneration, and to induce gentlemen to give it a little attention, whoever procures nine subscribers shall be entitled to a tenth copy, but it is to be explicitly understood, that the person who receives a copy for procuring subscribers, must be answerable for the payment of all the gentlemen who sign his list. The Publishers demand nothing but on delivery of the books, complete; therefore, determined not to leave a single set, without at that time, receiving payment for it.

Gentlemen who forward names to the Publishers, are requested to mention where the books are to be sent, and if possible, to make the place of delivery some considerable and well known town. Subscription papers will be found in the hands of Mr Prichard and Mr. S. Pleasants, in Richmond; Messrs. Ross and Douglass, Petersburgh; Mr. E. Merick, Norfolk; Mr. R. Greenhow, Williamsburgh; Mr. Henderson, Fredericksburg; Mr. S. Bishop, Alexandria; Mr. J. Alburtis, Martinsburgh; Mr. Bowen, Winchester; Mr. J. Gales, Raleigh, N. Carolina; Messrs. Baily and Waller, Charleston, South Carolina; Mr. J. Marsh, Georgetown, Potomac; Messrs. Rapin & Co. Washington City; Messrs. G. Hill, and Conrad, & Co. Baltimore, &c. &c.

The Publishers have only to add, that they believe it will be found to be considerably the lowest priced law book, for a similar extent, and including a copy-right purchase, that has appeared for many years either in America or Europe.

October 12.

The Executors of the late Gen. Geo. Washington, offer for sale, the following

TRACTS OF LAND, viz.

A tract in Loudoun county on Difficult Run, containing 300 acres. The soil well adapted for farming and a considerable proportion of it might easily be improved into meadow. There is a valuable mill-seat on the premises. It lies on the great road from the City of Washington, Alexandria and George Town to Leesburgh and Winchester, nineteen miles from Alexandria, less from the City and George Town and not more than three from the Great Falls of Potomac.

One tract containing 2,481 acres lying in the counties of Loudoun and Fauquier, called Ashby's Bent. The soil is that which is said to be most favorable to Plaster of Paris, well watered by several never failing streams issuing from the mountain—part of this land is cleared and tenanted for lives.

One tract lying part in each of the above counties, containing 885 acres. Chatten's run passes through this tract and gives several valuable mill seats. The soil is similar to the above tract and equally favorable to Plaster of Paris.

A tract on the South Fork of Bullskin, containing 1600 acres—One also, Head of Evans's Mill, containing 453 acres, and one on Wormley's line, containing 183 acres. These several tracts are in Jefferson (late Berkeley county)—the soil very similar in quality, and particularly adapted to the culture of Tobacco, Hemp, Wheat and Indian Corn, situated twelve miles from Harper's Ferry.

One tract containing 571 acres in Frederick county, this land is in the vicinity of the last mentioned tracts and equally valuable.

One tract in Hampshire county containing 240 acres—this tract, tho' small is extremely valuable. It lies on Potomac river, about 12 miles above the town of Bath (or Warm Springs) and in the shape of a horse-shoe, the river running almost round it; two hundred acres of it are rich low grounds, with a great abundance of the largest Walnut and other trees, which with the produce of the soil, might (by means of the improved navigation of the Potomac) be brought to a shipping port with more ease and at a smaller expense, than that which is transported only 30 miles by land.

One third part of 1119 acres in Nansemond county near Suffolk, lying on the road from Suffolk to Norfolk and on Nansemond river—this land is considered extremely valuable by those who are acquainted with it.

One tract in Charles county, Maryland, containing 600 acres—it is very level and lies near the river Potomac.

One tract in Montgomery county, Maryland, containing 519 acres—This land lies about 30 miles above the City of Washington, not far from Kettoctan and is good farming land.

One tract in Pennsylvania, containing 234 acres—This land affords an exceeding good stand on Braddock's road from Fort Cumberland to Pittsburg, and a large quantity of natural meadow fit for the scythe. It is distinguished by the appellation of the Great Meadows, where the first action with the French, in the year 1754, was fought.

One other tract on the Mohawk river, State of New-York, containing 1000 acres.

In North West Territory.

Three tracts lying on Little Miami, containing 3051 acres.

In Kentucky. On Rough Creek, one tract containing 3000 acres; ditto adjoining 2000 acres. Indisputable titles can be given for the above lands.

Lots in the City of Washington.

Two improved lots near the Capitol' square 634. The improvements are, on each an elegant three story brick house.

Four other unimproved lots on the Eastern Branch, No. 5, 12, 13 and 14, in square 667. These lots are advantageously situated on the water.

ALEXANDRIA.

A few valuable lots in Alexandria, corner of Pitt and Prince-streets, three or four of which are let on ground rent at 3 dollars per foot.

WINCHESTER.

One lot in Town of half an acre, adjoining Doctor Makay's, enclosed with a good post and rail fence, and a nother in the commons of about six acres.

Bath, or Warm Springs.

Two well situated lots, on one of them has small building large enough to accommodate one family.

The terms of sale will be made known by application to either of the subscribers.
